Purpose of data processing

We process your personal data so that you can take part in "HMM 2023 - 13th International Symposium on Hysteresis Modeling and Micromagnetics". This includes registering for the presentations and for the evening events with catering selection.

² Austrian Data Protection Act (Datenschutzgesetz)

What personal data do we process?

- Organisation, department
- Academic degree
- First name
- Surname
- Institution address
- E-mail address
- Inquiry regarding participation in evening events
- Possible indication of catering preferences
- Participant role (e.g. author, etc.)

Legal basis of the data processing

Such use of personal data is based on Article 6 par 1 (e) (performance of a task in the public interest) of GDPR in conjunction with § 3 of the Universities Act 2002.

The legal basis for producing and publishing the photos is Article 6 par 1 (a) (consent) of the GDPR.

Categories of recipients of personal data

We do not transfer your data to third parties.

Photos

Photos will be taken within the framework of the event, provided you have given your consent. These photos will be produced for marketing purposes and published on communication channels (e.g. website).

Duration of data storage

We will store your data for carrying out the event and also beyond such time, as long as statutory retention periods are in force, or as long as legal claims can be asserted against TU Wien, or as long as consent has been granted.

Your rights in connection with personal data

You may object to the processing of your data in accordance with Article 21 GDPR on grounds relating to your particular situation. An objection will only result in us refraining from processing your data if the objection is justified on special grounds and the compelling reasons of TU Wien for processing the data do not outweigh these special grounds.

As the data subject affected by the processing of these data, you have the following rights vis-à-vis TU Wien:

- the right to information;
- the right to rectification;
- the right to erasure;
- the right to restriction of processing of your data;
- the right to data portability;
- the right to object

As the data subject, you also have the right to complain to the Data Protection Authority concerning any alleged inadmissible data processing or our failure to fulfil our obligations arising from GDPR.

Right to revocation under Article 7 GDPR

When you register on site or when checking in for the event, we will request consent to take photographs. Any individuals who do not wish to appear in photos are informed that they should make this position known to the organiser at the time of check-in. In this case, the organiser will take appropriate precautions to ensure that the data subject is not visible in the photo or video images. Every data subject has the right to revoke their given consent(s) at any time in writing by sending an e-mail to hmm2023@asc.tuwien.ac.at. The withdrawal of consent shall not affect the lawfulness of processing based on consent before its withdrawal.
